

Summer 2018
Microeconomics I
Wednesday 10:25-12:10

April 11, 2018

OYAMA Daisuke

Faculty of Economics

University of Tokyo

oyama@e.u-tokyo.ac.jp

www.oyama.e.u-tokyo.ac.jp

The course is designed mainly for first-year master students who wish to proceed to the doctor course and presents an advanced theoretical treatment of major topics in microeconomics, including choice theory, consumer theory, producer theory, and general equilibrium theory.

Course information will be posted at <http://www.oyama.e.u-tokyo.ac.jp/advMicro18/>

Textbook

- D. M. Kreps, Microeconomic Foundations I, Princeton University Press, 2012.

Topics

0. Basic mathematics (Appendix 2)
1. Choice theory (Chapters 1–6)
2. Producer and consumer theories (Chapters 9–13)
3. General equilibrium theory (Chapters 14–16)

Grading

Midterm exam 40%, Final exam 60%

TA sessions

TBA

Office hours

Fridays 14:00-15:30, or by appointment
10th floor, 1012